Introduction. Daily life as an object of academic research
Chapter 1. The history of daily life as an academic field
Chapter 2. Sources and methods for studying the history of daily life
Chapter 3. Soviet daily life: the historiography of a problem
Chapter 4. Oral history: directions and stages of development.
Aural culture in Russia
Chapter 5. Soviet daily life in literature and art.
The image of the bourgeois in Russian and soviet literature of the first half of the 20th century
Chapter 6. Daily life on a micro-level:
Artist and book at camp
Chapter 7. Soviet daily life: norms and anomalies.
Famine in the Volga region, 1921-1922
Chapter 8. Communal Living as a sociocultural phenomenon of Soviet daily life
Chapter 9. Family history, the family, and marriage in the USSR.
The working and student family of the 1920s
Chapter 10. Rest and relaxation in Soviet history. Tourism as a special area of Soviet daily life
Chapter 11. Service in Soviet daily life
Chapter 12. ‘Normalized service’ in Soviet daily life: the card system in the USSR
Chapter 13. Alcohol policy and ‘drunk culture’ in Soviet Russia in the 1920s-1930s
Chapter 14. Productive daily life in Land of the Soviets
Conclusion. The prospects of studying daily life
Sources
I. Archival collections
II. Literature and Internet sources