

Humanities

CONTENTS

Foreword

I. THE GEORGE CIRCLE, SCIENCE, AND ANTIQUITY

1. A history of philosophy versus reception
2. The poet and his surroundings
3. The epistemology of George's scienza nuova
4. 'Hellas ancient love'

II. THE ORIGINS OF GEORGE'S PLATONISM (1910-1913)

1. Why Plato?
2. Plato and George: a holy alliance (against Wilamowitz?)
3. The apotheosis of the 'Feast'
4. On the use of 'organized' reviews

III. TOWARDS 'GESTALT': FRIEDEMANN

1. Towards a bio-bibliography
2. The first 'Gestalt' book
3. Reaction towards the book
4. Friedemann's Opus: role and location

IV. PLATO AND UTOPIA: EDGAR SALIN

1. Towards a bio-bibliography
2. On the history of the book
3. Salin's Plato
4. The book's reception

V. PLATO AS FOUNDER: KURT SINGER

1. Towards a bio-bibliography
2. A path to Plato, a path to George
3. Singer's Plato opus
4. Reaction towards the book
5. The tragicomic outcome

VI. PLATO'S TRIUMPH: KURT HILDEBRANDT

1. A specialist on the race issue as a contemporary polymath
2. At the head of George's Platonism
3. Reaction towards the magnum opus
4. At the service of Plato and the regime

VII. 'SMALL' PLATONISTS FROM GEORGEISTS (AND 'SMALL' GEORGEISTS FROM PLATONISTS)

1. Wilhelm Andreae
2. Robert Boehringer
3. Josef Liegle
4. Karl Reinhardt
5. Paul Ludwig Landsberg
6. Edith and Michael Landmann
7. Renata Von Scheliha
8. Paul Friedlander
9. Helmut von den Steinen

VIII. TOPICS OF THE NEW PLATONIST

1. Form and apparatus
2. Terminology and style
3. Strategies of (auto) hermeneutics
4. Socrates as forerunner
5. Plato as the savior of wholeness
6. Deified flesh
7. Rapture against reason
8. A spiritual empire
9. Politics as an upbringing
10. Plato as leader
11. Anachronism as reception
12. The theory of ideas and 'beholding'
13. Problems in studying Plato

IX. ECHOES OF GEORGE IN STUDYING PLATO

1. 'The third humanism'
2. Rejection
3. Sympathy
4. The case of Gadamer
5. The case of Heidegger
6. Rehabilitating George's themes

INSTEAD OF A CONCLUSION

BIBLIOGRAPHY